

STAND

Magazine

Home

Submission Guidelines

Subscription

Archives

About Stand

History

Jon Silkin

Selected

Bibliography

Biographical and

Critical Sources

External Links

Masthead

Stand wishes to acknowledge the support of School of English at University of Leeds and the Department of English at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Contents: Volume 13(2)

John Whale	Editorial
Jeffrey Wainwright	Six Poems
William Palmer	Two Poems
Brittney Scott	Two Poems
Antony Rowland	Five Poems
Sofi Stambo	Hope Number Six
Ian Pople	Two Poems
Lucy Barnett	Poem
Patrick Sykes	Two Poems
Harry Guest	Poem
Christine Koutelieri	Five Poems
Pavol Janik	Emilia trans. Heather Trebaticka
Matt Howard	Two Poems
Owen Gallagher	Four Poems
Stan Marcus	Two Poems
Steven Matthews	Two Poems
Paul Mills	Two Poems
Paul Maddern	Seagull
Thomas Ország-Land	Interview and Two Poems
Matt Kirkham	Three Poems
Shara McCallum	Five Poems
Ricardo Pau-Llosa	Poem
James W. Wood	Four Poems
Marijane Osborn	Thirty Viking Haikus
Susi Lovell	Eye
Simon Perchik	Four Poems
Alex Wylie	Poem
Thomas Rosenlöcher	Four Poems trans. Ken Cockburn
Martin Bennett	Four Poems
Paula Bohince	Three Poems
Robert Clinton	Two Poems
Murzban F. Shroff	Bhikoo Badshah's Poison
Trina Gaynon	Three Poems

Selected Contributors:

Martin Bennett lives in Rome where he teaches and proofreads at the University of Tor Vergata while contributing occasional articles to 'Wanted in Rome'. He was 2013 winner of the John Clare Prize.

Belinda Cooke has published three books: Resting Place (2008), The Paths of the Beggar Woman: Selected Poems of Marina Tsvetaeva (2008), and with Richard McKane, Flags by Boris Poplavsky.

Pavol Janik is a Slovak poet and dramatist. He was President of the Slovak Writers' Society (2003-2007), Secretary General of the SWS (1998-2003), 2007-2013) and Editor-in-chief of the literary weekly of the SWS Literarnyždennik (2010-2013). His literary works have been published in twenty countries.

Susi Lovell, originally from England, lived in Austria, South Africa, Australia and Colombia before settling in Montreal. She is a short story writer, choreographer and dancer, and a lover of bodies of water and Québec chocolateries. Her website is susilovell.com.

Steven Matthews was born and brought up in Colchester, Essex. His collection Skying appeared from Waterloo Press in 2012.

Thomas Ország-Land is a poet and award-winning correspondent who writes from London and his native Budapest. He is a Holocaust survivor. He participated in the 1956 Hungarian revolution against Soviet rule and read philosophy at Acadia University, Canada.

Marijane Osborn studied runes with Sir Christopher Ball at Oxford and was a Fulbright scholar in Iceland where she engaged with Viking culture. Now an Emerita professor at UC Davis, she is writing a book with the working title Afterwards in Heorot.

order back issue

Jacqueline Kolosov	Three Poems
Les Bares	Poem
Helen Mort	Reviews
N S Thompson	Review
Stella Pye	Review
Belinda Cooke	Review
	Notes on Contributors

School of English | Leeds University | Leeds LS2 9JT | England

Department of English | Virginia Commonwealth University | Richmond, VA 23284 | USA

