Even poets
submit patent proposals.

They are mainly concerned with the utilization of twinkling of the stars, movements of eyelashes and butterflies,
sparking of lovers,
and pull force of the muses.

Beyond that, I propose a household innovation.

In your modern kitchen, replace gas with neuroparalytic gas.

It will lighten your work and take away all your worries.

From Hurrah, it burns by PAVOL JANIK -Translated into English by Zuzana Sasovova-
